Dear Prospective Students,

Welcome to the Postgraduate School of Law, Queen Mary, University of London.

Our School of Law, ranked first in London in the Guardian's University 2011 Guide, is one of the largest in the UK with over 60 full-time staff and 800 postgraduate students. We have a long-established reputation for providing high quality teaching and internationally renowned research by staff who have both practical and academic expertise in almost all areas of law, with invaluable contributions from respected practitioners and industry experts. As an authorised CPD provider of courses (both on site and distance learning), the School is committed to continuous professional development and regularly holds seminars, workshops and conferences covering all areas of expertise offered across the School.

If you choose Queen Mary, you will find yourself in an internationally respected academic environment in which to study, develop and research, reflected in our student population consisting of over 85 different jurisdictions in 2009-10. Such tremendous diversity provides invaluable professional and personal development and long standing friendships amongst students and staff alike.

Our Postgraduate School of Law Centre is situated in Lincoln's Inn Fields, Holborn – the heart of legal London. Near to numerous law firms, chambers and the Courts of Justice, cafes, shops and theatres, we are just a short walk from the University of London's Institute of Advanced Legal Studies, where you can take advantage of the facilities and resources of one of the world's most extensive law libraries. Such a central location is especially helpful for London based professionals following our courses on a part-time basis or attending our seminars whilst working.

We look forward to meeting you in 2011 and hope you enjoy your time with us.
