Introduction

Do you know there are over 100 incubators and accelerators\(^1\) in London to help and support entrepreneurs like you? We curated the top 30 resources that can help you take your start-up from idea to launch and beyond. As a simplified guide, we divided the entrepreneurial journey into three generic stages – starting up, building and scaling your enterprise. We then hand-picked 10 resources for each stage to provide an overview of what support, help and funding you may get. We hope you will find this resource pack useful, whether you are just embarking on this journey or have already been operating for a while and looking for opportunities to scale up.

Stage 1 – Starting up your enterprise

For whom: Do you want to start your entrepreneur journey but don’t have an idea yet? Do you have an idea in the back of your mind, but don’t know how to build it into a real business? Then these are the resources for you.
