Academics More information about academics and courses is available here.	ASU offers over 200 online degree programs. Students should first check to see if their area of study is offered online by searching here. Students should then use the most recent semesters of ASU Online Class Search to search course offerings; please be sure the correct class search is chosen (see screenshot below). Also, please do not use the Course Catalog to search for classes, as the Course Catalog Search will include many courses that are not currently scheduled.   <input type="radio"/> In-Person & iCourses <input checked="" type="radio"/> ASU Online Classes   International exchange students are eligible to enroll in most classes for which they meet applicable prerequisites, as long as the course has not filled to capacity and seats are not reserved for ASU students in those majors. Please note that students are not guaranteed to receive all of their preferred classes, even if they meet prerequisites. <hr/> Online Format ASU online courses are 100% online and asynchronous. Most ASU online courses are offered in Session A (mid-January – early March) and Session B (mid-March – early May) format. Typically, students will enroll in 2 Session A courses and 2 Session B courses.

Exchange Balances	Full Exchange: 7-18 ASU credits = 1 semester exchange space Partial Exchange: 1-6 ASU credits = ½ semester exchange space
Official Grade Reports	International exchange students are not provided transcripts from ASU; instead, all courses, credits, and grades received at ASU are reported on the official ASU grade report. Grade reports are sent to the international exchange student's home institution within two months after the end of the semester by email and/or mail. Grade reports are not issued for students with incomplete grades or outstanding charges on their ASU student account.
Student Fees	International exchange students do not pay ASU tuition, but will have some costs. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Student Initiated Fees: $30 for a partial exchange and $55 for a full exchange • oCourse Fees: $10 per course • Special Course Fees: cost ranges and is only required for some courses • Books and Course Materials: some courses will require students to pay for additional software tools, books, and other supplies
