

Research methods conference

20th June 2016, Cardiff Law School

● Discourse analysis and regulatory design

Dr Ania Zbyszewska, Warwick School of Law

Author of Gendering European Working Time Regimes:
The Working Time Directive and the case of Poland (CUP) 2016

● The qualitative analysis of judgments

Professor Lizzie Barmes, Queen Mary School of Law

Author of Bullying and Behavioural Conflict at Work (OUP) 2015

● Approaching common law as gendered legal heritage

Professor Joanne Conaghan, Bristol Law School

This conference will consider how expressions of gender in law can be explored through attention to legal rules; whether grounded in statute or common law. Presentations, led by Professor Ambreena Manji, will address a range of methodological questions for academic lawyers:

What are 'gender rules'?

Why is the gendering of knowledge at issue in legal research?

Are methods in law a feminist issue?

How can intersectionality be studied in law?
