PEOPLE'S PALACE CHORAL SOCIETY.—Conductor, Mr. Orton Bradley, M.A.—On Friday, 7th inst., we held our annual election of officers, when the following ladies and gentlemen were elected to serve for the ensuing twelve months: Hon. Secretary, Mr. W. H. Dann; Hon. Librarian, Mr. J. H. Thomas; Committee, Mrs. Murray, Miss Rogers, Miss Roberts, Mr. H. E. Lewis, Mr. F. J. Houchin. On the motion of Mr. Bradley, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the retiring officers, special reference being made to the services rendered by Mr. J. G. Cockburn, who has worthily filled the office of hon. secretary for the last two years. We give our first concert of the season, in conjunction with the Orchestral Society, in the Queen's Hall, on Saturday evening, 29th inst., when Barnett's "Ancient Mariner," and a miscellaneous programme will be performed. It is hoped that every member will endeavour to attend all the remaining rehearsals, in order that our conductor may be gratified by a first-class performance of the Cantata being given. Members will be pleased to notice that our friend, Mr. Horace Barton, gave a couple of pianoforte selections in the Queen's Hall, at last Saturday night's concert, which were highly appreciated by a large audience. On Sunday afternoon next, our Prize Quartet Party, consisting of Misses Johnston and Hattersley, and Messrs. Hardwicke and Vassie, will sing in the Queen's Hall, the selected quartets being, "God is a Spirit" (Sterndale Bennett), and "Come every one that thirsteth," from Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

W. H. DANN, Hon. Sec.

PEOPLE'S PALACE YOUNG WOMEN'S SWIMMING CLUB.—The first competition of the club was held in the Bath on Tuesday, October 11th, when Miss Richardson, one of its vice-presidents, kindly presided in the unavoidable absence of Lady Jennings, its president. There were seven events on the programme, which included an exhibition of fancy swimming by Miss Regan, the captain of the club, and Miss Hurley. The races took rather a long time to swim off, as owing to the short time allowed for practice, and the difficulty of getting in candidates' names, the whole race had in each case to be swum instead of the final heats only as is usual; but on the whole the entertainment went off exceptionally well, and the club is indebted to its president, Miss Richardson, and its judges and starter for the success of the evening. The first event, 60 Yards Club Handicap, for which two prizes were offered, one by Lady Jennings and one by our secretary, was won by Miss Deeley; Miss Regan, who was scratch, coming in a very good second. Indeed, the race was a very close one all through. All members swam in club colours, yellow and black, and the effect in the water was very pretty. The second event was a 30 Yards Handicap, for which two prizes were offered, which were won by Miss Pringle and Miss E. Gardner. The second of these prizes was a very nice umbrella, kindly presented by the members of the People's Palace Men's Swimming Club, a gift which was much appreciated. Then came the race across the bath for this year's members only, which was won by Miss Boulter; after this a race on the back, 30 yards, which was won by Miss Regan, Miss Rawlings coming in second. Then the event of the evening, the Obstacle Race—30 yards, which was most exciting, and was won by Miss F. Hurley, Miss Rawlings coming in a good second. After this the Blindfold Race was swum, and won by Miss Regan. Only one prize was offered for this feat. The last race on the programme was the Consolation Race, for which a good many entered. There were three prizes offered, and they were won by Miss L. Brown, Miss G. Hurley, and Miss E. Regan. Most of the prizes were silver medals, and these were handed to their winners at the close of the evening by Miss Richardson. A good many spectators were present, but not so many as the club would like to see. A notice was given out to the effect that the bath would remain open for women on Tuesdays from 2 to 9.30 p.m. up till December.

PEOPLE'S PALACE RAMBLING CLUB.—ON Saturday last a party of six met at Poplar (N.L.R.) Station and proceeding to Millwall Junction, booked to South Greenwich. After a short visit to Greenwich Hospital, Painted Hall, and Museum, the weather being very fine, we crossed the park to Blackheath, which presented the usual Saturday afternoon appearance, covered with football clubs and their admirers. Having spent a little time watching the game, we crossed the common to the extreme corner leading to Morden College, which we entered. It has a very fine quadrangle, and is surrounded by twenty-three acres of beautiful grounds. We learned from Mr. Hill, an old gentleman, that the college was founded in 1695 for decayed merchants, and that there were forty residents there at the present time. Many of the Ramblers will remember making the acquaintance of Mr. Hill on a ramble to Eltham, July 31st, 1889. He was very pleased to see us, and entertained us with his many curiosities, including a magnificent microscope with a splendid collection of objects, also a large collection of photographs, which we examined through a stereoscope. Thanking Mr. Hill for his kindness, and hoping the next time we go that way to hear his famous musical box, we bade him good night and hurried across the common on the return journey. Those who could have attended this outing and did not, missed a great treat.—Saturday, October 22nd, meet at Law Courts, Strand, W.C., under the clock at 2.45 p.m. P.P. Students wishing to join the club are invited to attend this ramble.

A. MCKENZIE, Hon. Sec.

ON Saturday, October 22nd, the students of the Geology Class will, under the direction of Mr. Edward J. Burrell, make their first excursion to Charlton, in Kent, for the purpose of studying sections in the well-known pits near the railway station. These sections exhibit a complete series of strata from the Upper Chalk to the Pebble Beds at the summit of the Lower London Tertiaries, the most conspicuous being the buff-coloured Thanet Sands, which are here about 50ft. thick. Those who intend joining the Geology Class should do so immediately, since it is highly desirable that all members should be present at the first Field Class. Hammers will be required as the locality furnishes several typical Upper Chalk fossils. In addition each student should be provided with a note-book. The party will travel down to North Woolwich by the 2.5 p.m. train from Fenchurch-street, calling at Bow-road 2.15, Stratford Market 2.20, and arriving at Woolwich 2.37.

IN connection with our Concerts, arrangements have been made for the Garrick Dramatic Company to give a series of Moving Costume Tableaux on the 7th, 9th, 10th, and 12th of November. So many were disappointed last February in not being able to obtain admission, owing to the crowded houses we then had, that we anticipate this announcement will be received with pleasure.

PEOPLE'S PALACE OLD BOYS' FOOTBALL CLUB v. BARKING SWIFTS.—This match was played at Barking, last Saturday, in favourable weather, and ended in a decisive defeat for the Old Boys, by 8 goals to 1. The Birds won the toss and took the advantage of the slope. Clements started the leather rolling at 4 o'clock, and by some good passing by the Old Boys they managed to secure a goal two minutes from the start; then the Birds played hard and fast, and so equalised. Half-time—Swifts, 5 goals; Old Boys, 1. On re-starting, the Old Boys played very well together, but despite their efforts they were unable to place any more goals to their credit, the Swifts adding three more, and so the match ended as stated above, A. Oughton and H. Phillips playing in very fine style for the Old Boys. Team.—Edmunds (goal), Phillips (captain) and Howell (backs), Toyne, Birkett, and Oughton (half-backs), Burton, sub., Clements, Howell, jun., and Langdon (forwards).—Match next Saturday, 7. Grove, at Victoria Park. No. 5 Team.—Baines (goal), Phillips and Howell (backs), Oughton, Langdon, and Toyne (half-backs), Burton, Skinner, Clements, White, and Bissett (forwards), Edmunds, Howell, jun., Myers, and Oughton (reserves).

A. E. CLEMENTS, Hon. Sec.

ON Tuesday evening last the number of students who had joined the evening classes was 3,503. It will not be long before there are 4,000 names on the books.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made with a view to starting a Saturday Class in Engineering. It is proposed that the class should be held from 4 to 6 in the afternoon, and from 7 to 8 in the evening. This will enable students to have two lessons on the one day, and will give them an hour between the classes for refreshment.

AN additional class in Solo Singing has been started under the direction of Miss L. Yates. It meets on Tuesdays from 6 to 9.30, and each student receives twenty minutes' instruction. The names of a few more students for the class can be received at the office.

THE three portions of the Machine Construction and Drawing Class, which met at the People's Palace on Tuesday evening last, contained more than 150 students. In addition to these, two large classes meet on Thursday evening. We are under the impression that this is the largest class in the subject that has ever met in London.

IN the Type-writing Class, arrangements have been made for the introduction of some of the newest class of Hammond machines. Students will find these most serviceable, and a knowledge of them very useful in addition to that of the Remington machine.

PERHAPS not the least important "class note" is, speaking generally, the fact that the attendance is nearly 1,000 ahead of the corresponding period last year. As regards special classes, one—the reading, writing, and arithmetic class, conducted by Mrs. Thomas on Friday evenings, from 8 to 9.30—is doing a great deal of good, and were it better known the results would undoubtedly be very marked. As it is, no end of testimony as to the value of this class has been received. Witness the following:—

One writes: "My education having been much neglected in my young days and hearing that there was a class for young women held at the People's Palace, I thought I should like to join it, but was kept from doing so for some time by the fear that I should meet with rebuffs. However, I am happy to say that at last I summoned sufficient courage to go, met with a warm reception from Mrs. Thomas, and have derived great benefit from the class in a very short time—thanks to our teacher—and I feel sure, if this class were more generally known, a great number of those who are like myself would be only too glad to become members of it."

Another writes: "Our class consists of persons of all ages, from young girls just leaving school to married people, who, like myself, have not felt the need of arithmetic, or of being able to write a presentable letter until circumstances have proved wants. "We all receive individual teaching in arithmetic, and our reading lessons are a pleasure as well as being instructive. Then, too, we are taught to write a letter properly, to make out a bill and receipt it, and, in short, anything of which we feel our need."

A third says, "As a student of the People's Palace, I wish to call the attention of women, either married or single, to the educational advantages of our class for the study of Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic, held every Friday evening. I speak only for myself, though I know that my fellow members heartily join me in wishing that the public should know that we have derived great benefit from this class, and some of us in a very short time. For this we have to thank our lady instructress, who not only teaches us the above subjects, but also explains everything about which we wish to be informed, especially those of everyday life. I am quite sure that people who need help in these things, will, if they join, be pleased with the nice, quiet manner in which everything is carried on, and will be only sorry that they did not join earlier. I trust the class will continue to help many whose education, like my own, was sadly neglected in former days."

Yet another says:—"One day, about a year ago, I picked up a circular concerning the evening classes held at the People's Palace. On reading it through I discovered there were classes held for women only, one of which was set apart for reading, writing, and arithmetic. I thought this a good opportunity of improving my education, and I made up my mind to join. I did so, and was made very welcome by Mrs. Thomas, the teacher. I was pleased to find we could have individual instruction, especially as many of the students were more advanced than myself. I also became aware that the instruction is not restricted to what is commonly known as the three R's. We are having instruction in grammar, letter-writing, and, I may say, any subject on which we need information. Mrs. Thomas is always most happy to help each one according to wants. All are welcome to join, there is no limit respecting age; married and single women, young girls, and children who have just left school, come, and, I believe, look forward with as much pleasure as I do myself to Friday evenings at the Technical School. I trust these few words may be encouraging to those whose education has been neglected; don't lose a good opportunity; the fee is very small and the instruction is large. There is no time like the present."

People's Palace Cycling Club Notes.

I SHOULD like to know the name of the maker of the instrument by which Shepherd's record was timed?

Whether the said clock was going the whole of the time or stopped for the purpose of oiling up?

Who suggested that Messrs. Sharp and Russell should form the Essex-road record committee?

Why Shepherd did not enter for the Eastern Counties' Hundred seeing that he was in such fine form. Surely it would be a greater honour to be the fastest rider in an organisation like the E.C.R.C. than to be champion of a small club like Glen eagles?

To miss taking part in the Century beano was to me a great disappointment, but in spite of all my planning and contriving I was compelled, through circumstances entirely beyond my control, to be an absentee. It was much to be regretted that there was so much dampness about, as it tended to cause some to lose interest in the race very early in the proceedings, and although the roads were pretty soft it did not turn out quite such a soft job to obtain a medal as had been anticipated by some.

Taking into consideration the state of the roads, Andrews' performance of 6 mins. 59 secs. was indeed a creditable one, and compares very favourably with the time made in the North Road Hundred on the same day. Our start was made at nine, when the roads were wet and soft, whilst the North Road Club did not start until after mid-day, when the roads were dry, comparatively speaking. Then, again, the course used by the North Road Club is a much faster one than the road to Newmarket. As I said before, taking these items into consideration, Andrews did well. Bravo! Andy, we are proud of you.

I have no sympathy with cyclists who meet with accidents through riding path machines on the road, and still less—if such were possible—with those who meet with punctures, etc., and have no outfit to repair them with. To use a path machine in a road contest is trying to take a mean advantage over the other competitors, and when the fates are thoughtful enough to draw the offender's attention to his conduct, the other competitors no doubt feel grateful for such consideration.

It is often remarked that it is impossible to get on in these competitive times without plenty of brass, front, or "cheek," as it is popularly, if not vulgarly, called; and such a remark is often put forward in excuse when one has perhaps overstepped the rules of social or business etiquette. There is no doubt, however, that the competitor who, through riding racing tyres, met with his deserts in the shape of a puncture, either firmly believed in the above remark, or must have been joking when he asked another competitor to lend him his outfit.

I have before remarked on the unwisdom of appointing a scratch man as handicapper, and the starts allotted to some of the competitors in the Hundred Miles is another proof of that folly. Some of the starts were ridiculously short, and although it may be flattering a

6. SONG ... Parker
"The Moorish Maid"

MISS ANNIE LEA.

I've watched the golden sunshine
Thro' my narrow prison bars,
I've seen the pale moon shining
'Midst her court of glitt'ring stars,
But no birds sing near my lattice,
And the flow'rs I cannot see,
Save in dreams the days recalling
When the captive maid was free.

In my dreams I see the wavelets
As they kiss my native shore,
Hear again the martial music
That I thought to hear no more;
Yet such dreams come but in sleeping,
And that sleep I woo in vain,
Or has night her waking visions,
That I hear a plaintive strain?

Hark! near it comes, and nearer. Oh!
can it be that I

Dare trust its music's message, that love and wealth are nigh?

Ah! yes, I know that voice! 'Tis he,
my lover true and brave,

Oh! heaven, look in pity down, and help to bless and save!

My heart with rapture now is dancing
like a bird of the wood, I'm free!

For love to home will bring me welcome;
like a bird of the wood I'm free!

INTERVAL.

9. ENTR'ACTE ... Michaelis
"Neue Bummelr"

10. SONG "Mother Darling"

MADAME PAULA PLOWITZ.

Mother, mother, darling, do not chide me,

Did I stop too long away?
Mother, mother, dear, the sun shone brightly,

Birds were singing on every spray!

Mother, mother, darling, do not chide me!

I will try to be so good.
Mother, mother, dear, the sun shone brightly,

Butterflies were flitting through the wood!

And now must I tell you, mother,
Whom I met in yonder grove.

Such a brave and handsome fellow!
And, ah me! he stole my love!

Ah! Mother, mother, darling, do not chide me,

I will so obedient be.

Mother, mother, dear, the birds sang gaily,

Butterflies were dancing in the sunshine free.

11. VALSE "Donau Wellen" Ivanovici

12. INTERMEZZO ... Macbeth
"Forget-me-not"

13. CZARDAS "Hungarian" Keler Bela

14. SONG "Love's Golden Time" Moir
MISS ANNIE LEA.

I asked the quiet woods at morning,
What of the flow'rs so bright and gay?

That seemed to shine for your adorning,
And Nature's voices, where are they?

Then rose a carol clear and strong,
That filled the lifeless woods with song,

Rejoice, O heart, rejoice and know,
Tho' lonely now the hours may be,
Beyond the waiting and the woe,
Love's golden time is still for thee.

I sat alone, the shades were falling,
The room was silent as could be,
When in a dream, O bliss entralling,
My own, my loved one smiled on me.

Then rose a carol, etc.

15. MORCEAU ... Czibulka
"Songe d'Amour"

"Après le Bal"

16. GALOP ... Kolling
"La Chasse au Lion"

People's Palace Cycling Club Notes.

man regarding his pace to place him near the scratch man, yet I think the majority would rather do without the flattery and have a chance of winning.

The decision of the committee to make the club year end on December 31st is, in my humble opinion, a wise one for many reasons—not the least of which perhaps is that of electing officers.

The business of nominating members for the various offices is one which, to my mind, we have not in the past managed at all well. Nearly all that attend the meeting seem to think it is their duty towards the club to nominate every member they know as a candidate for some post or other, whether they are suited to fill the various positions or not;

A day should be fixed as the latest for receiving nominations, and lists of the best of the candidates might be compiled for the guidance of members, and some system adopted, so that all members might take part in the election.

One thing is certain, we have had enough of two handicappers. In one of them we have a member who throws his whole soul in the work—no, gentle reader, I am not entering for any races, and now playing for a long start—and the appointment of a helpmate (?) has simply increased his work. I do not mean to say that those members who supported the second handicapper at the election did so in any other than good faith, and what they believed to be in the club's interest, and I certainly think that an officer should consider it to be his duty to resign his position if he cannot give the necessary time to properly discharge the duties of the office to which he has been elected.

I am fully alive to the fact that to hold office in any capacity in a club is anything but a thankful task, and many of the members never give one moment's consideration as to the amount of work there is to be done in connection with a large and flourishing club like ours, and I would not for a moment have it thought that I am harassing or worrying those in office.

The donkey work must be done, and it requires someone who will throw his whole soul in the undertaking to achieve success in whatever branch of the work that may be allotted to him to perform, but for any member to hold a position to which he is unable to give the necessary time, is doing no service to the club, for he is probably keeping another out who could afford to give closer attention to the work.

For the information of those whom it may concern, I am asked to state that those members returning with the club on Easter Monday count a run, also those returning with the club from an extended run, and those who made Stamford Rivers their destination on one occasion.

Our worthy M.C., Mr. Marshall, has taken unto himself a wife. I am sure the members will join with me in wishing both him and his bride long life and prosperity, and hope that his new responsibilities will not prevent his officiating at our dances as hitherto.

I have received from various unknown quarters several fancy packages, accompanied by notes of congratulations, etc., which I was unable to understand until the other day, when I was told, "on the best authority," mind you, that I was on the Continent spending my honeymoon. For the benefit of those whom it may concern, I may say there is not the slightest truth in the above, and, being an interested party, I ought to know.

The "Essex Echoes" writers in the Cycle Record propose that a record committee be formed for the purpose of hall-marking Essex roads, as no record can be claimed until it has been fully established before some such body. With that proposition I entirely agree. The writers also ask that a timekeeper be appointed by the N.C.U., so that the times may be relied upon.

A timekeeper would require a first-class watch, which costs rather more, I think, than any local cyclist would care to spend in such an article. If appointed by the N.C.U., a timekeeper would have fixed charges which no small club would be able to meet.

The following are the dates of the dances arranged for the coming season:—

- Dec. 3. Bromley Vestry Hall.
31. Stratford Town Hall.
Jan. 28. Stratford Town Hall.
Feb. 18. Bromley Vestry Hall.
Mar. 18. Stratford Town Hall.

Members are requested to note the following, and give them their hearty support.

- Oct. 22. Run to Crown, Loughton.
29. Granville Cinderella at Beaumont Hall.
Nov. 5. Theatre Party to "Prince of Wales." Meet outside at 7 p.m.
12. Annual Dinner at City Arms, St. Mary Axe.
19. Party to Stanley Show.
24. do. do.
26. Granville Cinderella.

It has been proposed that a dancing class be formed among the members for the winter season. It seems to me to be a very good idea for keeping the club together during the off season, and one that will, if carried out, be productive of very enjoyable evenings. The class would of course be both for instruction and practice so that—

Those might dance who never danced before, And those who always danced might dance the more.

Now what we want is to arrange the matter as soon as possible. All those who will support this idea should send a post card at once to H. Bright, 68, Lichfield-road, Bow. We cannot get on very well without ladies, so that every member is requested to get a lady friend to join the class.
