CASINO MALTESE

2018

The Casino Maltese is a social club created in 1852. The premises the Club has occupied since 1906, were originally built by the Knights of Malta over 400 years ago and used as the accounting branch of their Treasury.

The exclusive Casino Maltese has hosted royalty and prominent personalities in this historic building that the Club has transformed into a truly outstanding venue. It has created the grand staircase and the courtyard as well as the Fireside Lounge and the vast spaces of the reception rooms on the first floor, including the ornate Ballroom.

For nearly a century, only members could hold private events in its halls and the Club had a strict dress code. Nowadays a more relaxed dress code is enforced and the Club has opened up its reception halls on the first floor (Ballroom, Presidents Room and Princess Room) to other requests, under certain conditions contained in its rules.

1) the Club is a private space and no photos are allowed anywhere on the premises. Clients can take photos during events and within the hired space ONLY. Corinthia, the Club's exclusive caterer, has promotional material that should be used for marketing purposes.
2) The Club has a dress code (see below) and will refuse entry to anyone not appropriately dressed.

During opening-hours events, site visits and familiarity trips:

- The minimum dress code is 'smart-casual', defined as follows:
  - gentlemen: jacket, smart, long trousers (including denim or corduroy, appropriate jeans), collared shirts or plain polo necks, shoes. No tie required.
  - ladies: smart clothing may include denim and smart jeans.

- Derogation:

  Gentlemen are not obliged to wear a jacket:

  - in the winter period (1 Nov to 31 May) between 4.00 pm and closing time as well as throughout the Club's opening hours on Saturday, Sunday and Public holidays;
  - throughout the summer period (1 June - 31 October).
  - any other period as the Committee may direct from time to time.

For Evening Events

The Casino Maltese is a private club and guests should be dressed appropriately.
