Travel information

Nearest London Underground stations: Barbican and Farringdon on Hammersmith & City, Metropolitan, and Circle lines.

From Barbican station, turn left and take the first left into Carthusian Street. Turn right into Charterhouse Square (just past the Sutton Arms on the right) and walk through the cobblestone car park and into Rutland Place. Walk straight along the pavement on Rutland Place and at the end of this pavement the wrought iron gates to the Medical College will face you. The gates are open during normal hours (8-5). The Joseph Rotblat Building is just to your right as you enter through the gates and is marked 5 on the above map.
