Q13.As you may know, the current Covid-19 pandemic has required high levels of government spending. Following the crisis, and when the UK Government expects a lot of emergency spending to come to an end, which of these statements do you agree with the most in relation to future levels of tax and public spending, compared with their levels before the pandemic began?

Q14. Please now think about the period following the global financial crisis, when David Cameron was Prime Minister and George Osborne was Chancellor. During this period, government spending on many (but not all) public services and benefits was cut to reduce the deficit. Do you think it was the right or wrong decision to cut public spending to reduce the deficit?

Q16.After the Covid-19 pandemic, suppose the government had to choose between these three options. Which do you think it should choose? Please think about what you would like the future levels of tax and spending to be after the pandemic compared with the levels before the pandemic, not compared with the levels of spending during the pandemic.

Rebuilding after Covid
Adults aged 18+ in GB

Q23.As you may know, schools have had to close twice during the pandemic to many pupils, and some pupils have also had to stay at home to self-isolate for periods when schools have been open. Which two or three of the following, if any, do you think should be priorities for schools in [England/Scotland/Wales] when the new school year starts in September?
