About the QM Academy Taught Programmes

QMUL offers two taught programmes for developing teaching, supporting learning, and other aspects of academic practice. They are open to all colleagues, academic and professional, whose role involves a minimum of 10 hours per academic year teaching QMUL students at levels 4-7 and/or supporting learning. They are especially recommended for staff new to QMUL and/or relatively new to teaching at university in the UK, as well as staff on probation.

These programmes are for academic credit and lead to academic level 7 (postgraduate) qualifications in teaching and learning or academic practice generally. Our programmes are accredited by Advance HE (subject to confirmation)* and award recognition, in the form of a category of HEA fellowship, for your achievements in the teaching and / or supporting learning aspect of your role though learning on the programmes. The Advance HE Fellowship Category Tool may also assist you in selecting which programme, or route to Fellowship that you apply for. If you would like to discuss your options, then the course team will be more than happy to advise.

We offer two taught programmes:

1. Certificate in Learning and Teaching (CILT) is a 30-credit postgraduate programme that will introduce you to the principles and the practice of teaching and supporting university learners in and beyond your discipline. Completing this programme leads to a postgraduate qualification (Certificate) in education and recognition as HEA Associate Fellow.
 - You should choose this programme if you teach and / or support learners (students), at QMUL, in a specific capacity, such as a graduate teaching assistant or as part of your role as a researcher, a technician, a clinician, or professional services staff.

2. Postgraduate Certificate in Academic Practice (PGCAP) is a 60-credit postgraduate programme that will induct you into the principles, best practices, and ways for developing and evaluating aspects of your academic practice. Completing this programme leads to a postgraduate qualification (Postgraduate Certificate) in education and recognition as HEA Fellow.
 - You can choose this programme if you are:
 - a) academic staff on probation, which requires you to obtain HEA Fellow status; or
 - b) academic or other staff whose role involves substantial teaching and/or supporting learning, e.g. you teach extensively, convene modules, lead programmes, etc.; and

The taught programmes are designed to inspire you to think creatively about your practice in the context of your specialist role and subject area. The programmes will encourage you to make connections between your own experience, the experience of others, and learning, teaching and wider academic practice theories that have been developed by researchers and practitioners.

This handbook focuses on 1. CILT.

See Table 1 on p. 6 for a summary of the programme.

QMUL also offers its staff other pathways to HEA fellowship:

- The direct application pathway is normally for university staff who have substantive, usually more than three years', experience of teaching and/or supporting learning at university level in the UK. They can submit a direct application for HEA fellowship, depending on their level of experience and the degree to which it enables them to evidence achievement against the relevant fellowship descriptor.

For more information, please contact the Teaching Recognition Programme Team.

Advance HE Accreditation and Fellowship

The Certificate in Learning and Teaching (CILT) is validated and quality assured by QMUL, as with any other academic programme and degree award at the University.

The programme is also externally accredited, by Advance HE (formerly the Higher Education Academy (HEA)), to award Associate Fellowship.

For that reason, the programme is aligned to a framework of standards of teaching and learning practice in higher education – the UK Professional Standards Framework (UKPSF). This alignment means the teaching and learning on the programme will prepare you to meet the standards relevant for the level of awarded fellowship, and the assessment will determine whether and how well you have met those standards.

Assessment on the programme is designed to integrate the requirements for academic credit and the requirements for HEA Associate Fellowship. Requirements for academic credit and Associate Fellowship are both met simultaneously as the Descriptor criteria are explicitly embedded in the programme assessment criteria. The programme's External Examiner moderates both elements and the final decision on both your programme award and award of Fellowship will be made at our Examination Board following the completion of your modules.

The UKPSF consists of two elements – the Dimensions of the Framework and the four Descriptor statements. The Descriptors incorporate the UKPSF Dimensions. CILT is aligned to Descriptor 1 D1 (Associate Fellow).

The Dimensions of the Framework are divided into three sets:

- Areas of Activity (A) undertaken by teachers and support staff
- Core Knowledge (K) needed to carry out those activities at the appropriate level of fellowship
- Professional Values (P) that individuals performing the activities (A) should exemplify

Table 2. This is the full set of UKPSF dimensions of practice:

Areas of Activity	Core Knowledge	Professional Values
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Design and plan learning activities and/or programmes of study 2. Teach and/or support learning 3. Assess and give feedback to learners 4. The requirements to meet Associate Fellow are listed in its Descriptor D1 (Associate Fellow) below. You can track how you will develop against the UKPSF dimensions through the alignment of the programme learning outcomes with the dimensions, illustrated in Table 3 on page 12.

The programme's alignment with UKPSF means that teaching, learning and assessment will focus on developing and assessing you against the Descriptor for D1. Advance HE's Dimensions of the Framework series also offers examples of how colleagues in a range of roles might evidence successful engagement with the UKPSF.

Alignment of programme structure to UKPSF Descriptors

CILT will focus on learning and assessing your development towards the HEA Associate Fellow standard (See Descriptor 1 above), enabling you to demonstrate an understanding of specific aspects of teaching, learning support methods and student learning:

- Successful engagement with at least two Areas of Activity: on CILT, these will primarily be A1 (Design and plan learning activities and sessions) and A2 (Teach and/or support learning). This is primarily through the design of an authentic session plan (module 1) and presentation of a learning resource (module 2), observations of professional practice (module 2), and participation in development opportunities throughout both modules including feedback on practice, learning from sessions and activities, the literature and peers. Although you will also gain some insight into A3 (Assess and give feedback to learners) and A5 (engage in continuing professional development in subjects/disciplines and their pedagogy, incorporating research, scholarship and the evaluation of professional practices) through modules 1 and 2.
- Successful engagement in appropriate teaching and practices related to these Areas of Activity: you will carry out activities which enable you to demonstrate A1: authentic session plan – module 1, presentation of learning resource – module 2, and A2: observation of practice (authentication of practice and formative assessment) - module 2.
- Appropriate Core Knowledge and understanding of at least K1 and K2: the focus is on: K1 (update your knowledge of the subject material and best practice of teaching it) and K2 (knowledge of appropriate methods for teaching, learning and assessing in your subject and level of teaching), although you will gain knowledge and understanding also along K3 (how students learn), K4 (using learning technologies), and K5 (evaluating the effectiveness of teaching).
- A commitment to appropriate Professional Values in facilitating others' learning: through CILT you will develop skills and understanding in order to: V1 (Respect individual learners and diverse learning communities), V2 (Promote participation in higher education and equality of opportunity for learners), V3 (Use evidence-informed approaches and the outcomes from research, scholarship and continuing professional development), and V4 (Acknowledge the wider context in which higher education operates recognising the implications for professional practice).
- Relevant professional practices, subject and pedagogic research and/or scholarship within the above activities: you will be introduced to relevant pedagogic research and scholarship, both subject-specific and more generic. You will be supported to critically engage with this literature, using it to support your learning and teaching design and delivery and as a source of recommendations and good practice.
- Successful engagement, where appropriate, in professional development activity related to teaching, learning and assessment responsibilities: this programme will enable you to engage in a range of activities which contribute to your professional development in relation to teaching, learning and assessment. All assessments are practice-based and therefore designed to support your professional development, for example through design, feedback and reflection on the authentic session plan, and through peer and senior colleague observation of your practice and reflection as a result of this.

The alignment of CILT with the D1 Descriptor for Associate Fellow is noted in the programme learning outcomes, Table 3 below. Detailed mapping of modules against this Descriptor is also provided within Module Handbooks.

Programme Structure

CILT is made up of two modules – these are units which last a semester (roughly 3 months).

CILT is a one-calendar year (12 month) programme, comprising two 15-credit, one-semester modules: ‘Learning and Teaching in Higher Education’ and ‘Learning and Teaching in the Disciplines’. Appendices 1 and 2 contain full details of these two modules.

The modules follow in sequence so you cannot take more than one simultaneously, and consequently cannot complete any one of the programmes sooner than their specified one- and two-year durations.

Both modules are compulsory and need to be completed in order to complete the programme.

You have a choice of two entry points into the programmes: September or January.

Programme Delivery

Modules will normally run via blended learning twice in the academic year, starting in September and January. The blended delivery of our modules means that most of the teaching and learning takes place online, but with optional in-person activities integrated into modules.

There are live synchronous webinars or seminars, and in addition, participants will complete preparation work asynchronously (studying independently in their own time), accessing resources and readings, completing online quizzes and posting in forums.

Eligibility

To be eligible for the programme you must be QMUL staff and teaching QMUL students a minimum of 10 hours per academic year that you intend to study with us.

As defined by Advance HE, QMUL employees are any staff member on a variety of different contracts (permanent, fixed-term, part-time, fractional) and includes those colleagues who are contracted to deliver teaching but not necessarily paid for their work.

Interruption of Studies, Change of Programme and Accreditation of Prior Learning (APL)

If you wish to interrupt your studies on the programme on which you are enrolled please complete the Interruptions of Study form and email it to the Programme Manager.

If you wish to change programme, e.g. transfer to PGCAP while taking CILT, you should complete the Change of Programme Study form and email it to the Programme Manager. The form must be submitted before the end of the programme from which you wish to change. Note that in order to progress to PGCAP after you have completed CILT you will be expected to apply in the usual way and request accreditation of prior learning (credit transfer) from CILT towards the new programme.

You can request accreditation of prior learning (APL) based on studying elsewhere on programmes equivalent to PGCAP. To be eligible for this you need to have earned academic credit on the equivalent programme or obtained Advance HE Associate Fellow status. Note you can request APL of 30 credits towards PGCAP (equivalent to the first two modules). You cannot request APL towards CILT. Accreditation of prior experiential learning (APEL) may also be available for those have already achieved Advance HE Associate Fellowship via a direct application and who wish to enrol on PGCAP. See the PGCAP Programme Handbook for more information or contact the Programme Manager .

Module Details

Each module has its own QMPlus area where you will find the details and learning resources for each seminar / webinar, details about the assessments with the relevant assessment criteria and grading scheme, annotated exemplars and the online assessment submission points.

Once you've been offered a place, our administrative team will contact you to ask you to select your seminar group. Once you have completed the enrolment process you will be registered on the relevant module(s) and you will be able to access the QMPlus module area for your module by signing in with your student login and password on QMPlus. You will be sent your student log-in by QMUL's IT services. If you haven't received your student login within 3 working days after accepting your place offer via the link in the email from Central Admissions, please contact IT services directly on 020 7882 8888.

You can find more about how to access and use QMPlus here.

The first module, 'Learning and Teaching in Higher Education' (ADP7116 – face-to-face, ADP7216 – distance learning), will be taught in mixed discipline groups, and you will have the chance to reflect on the needs of your own discipline as well as comparing your own context to others.

The second module, 'Learning and Teaching in the Discipline' (ADP7117 – face-to-face, ADP7217 – distance learning), will be taught in disciplinary streams divided along faculty lines: Science and Engineering, Medicine and Dentistry, and Humanities and Social Sciences. You will be asked to choose your preferred disciplinary stream when registering on the module. While you will normally be expected to sign up for the stream that matches your Faculty / School, you could opt for another stream if that matches your particular area of work better.

As part of the module 'Learning and Teaching in the Discipline' you will be required to have two observations of your practice, one by a peer and one by a senior colleague or a member of the programme team in order to authenticate your practice, in line with the programme's accreditation requirements. You should also arrange to conduct an observation of a peer. We encourage you to find a senior colleague and a peer to observe you early on in the module so that you have your observations finished in plenty of time to complete Assignment 2 of ADP7217 – Reflection on Observations.

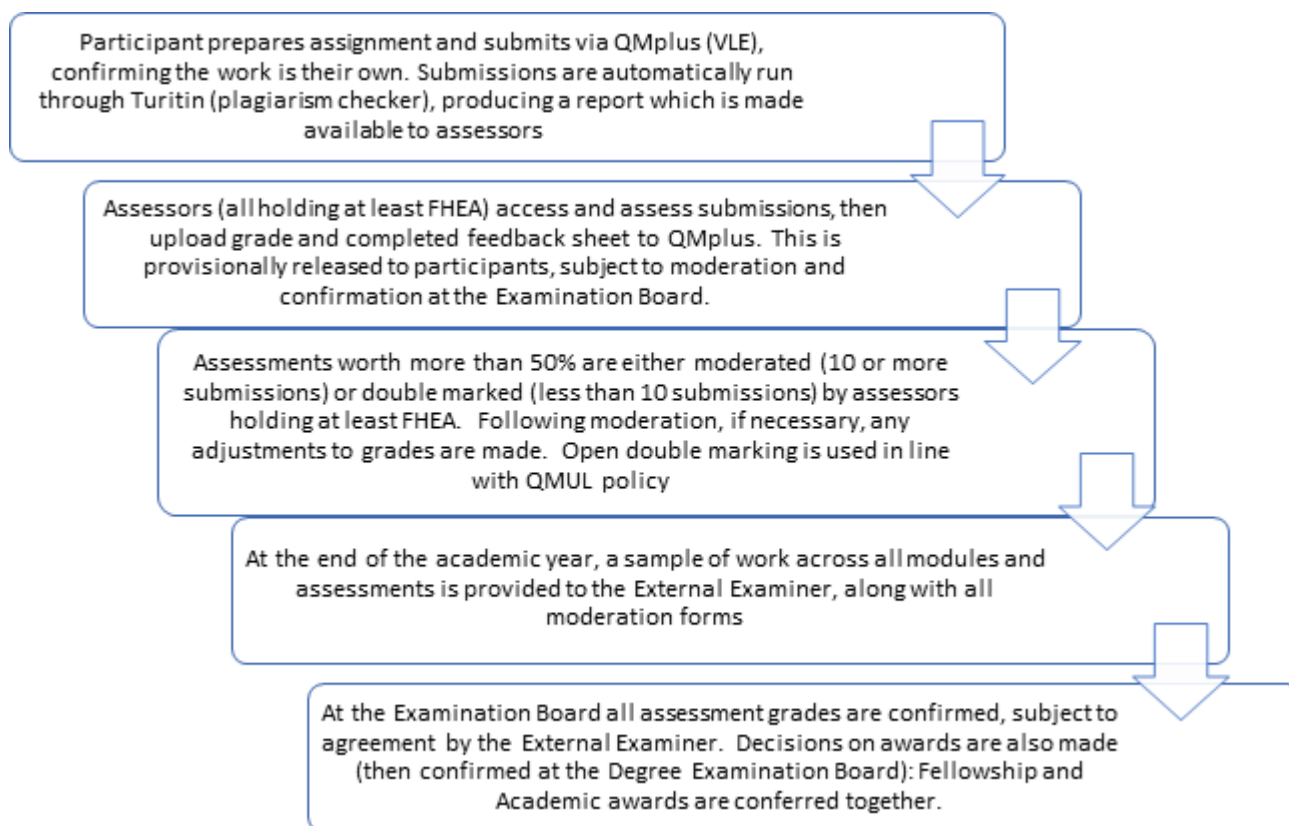

Assessment

You will be assessed through coursework; there are no formal examinations. The coursework, depending on the module, will be a mix of practice-based tasks, presentations, and written assignments (e.g. curriculum design).

Each module has two summative assessments, meaning that there are four summative assessments in total.

You will find details of the assessments per module in the appendices at the end of the Handbook and on module QMPlus pages.

Flowchart of assessment process

Assessment on CILT is designed to integrate the requirements for academic credit and the requirements for HEA Associate Fellowship. Requirements for academic credit and Fellowship are both met simultaneously as the Descriptor criteria are explicitly embedded in the programme assessment criteria. The programme's External Examiner moderates both elements and both fellowship and academic credit are awarded at the same point. The Queen Mary Academy Subject Examination Board makes recommendations on awards for both Associate Fellowship and academic credit to the QMUL Degree Examination Board which considers and approves awards and classifications.

Table 6 below details how assessments across the two modules of CILT contribute to meeting the requirements of Descriptor 1 of the UKPSF overall.

Since our programmes are awarded by QMUL, all assessments on our programmes are subject to the same QMUL academic regulations that apply to other QMUL undergraduate and postgraduate programmes. This means that the same regulations apply for Assessment Offences on our programmes. Assessment offences include, but are not limited to:

- plagiarism;
- the use, or attempted use, of ghost-writing services for any part of assessment;
- self-plagiarism - the submission of work, or sections of work, for assessment in more than one module or assignment (including work previously submitted for assessment at another institution);
- fraudulent reporting of source material, experimental results, research, or other investigative work;
- collusion in the preparation or production of submitted work.

Please see full details of QMUL regulations on Assessment Offences here:

<http://www.arcs.qmul.ac.uk/students/exams/assessment-offences/>

Reassessment

Standard reassessment is available for all modules, meaning you can have another attempt at the assignments (there is no synoptic reassessment on the programme). This is the case whether the reassessment is in the form of an uncapped resit following a successful extenuating circumstances claim (see below), or a capped resit if you failed an assignment or did not submit at all and did not make an extenuating circumstances claim or had your claim rejected. The maximum score you would then receive for the module you are resitting is 50% (pass).

The programme team can provide support with all reassessment and you will be advised of the deadline and instructions for submission. All reassessment work is double marked and reviewed by the external examiner.

Submission

You will be expected to submit online, through the submission portal on the relevant QMPlus module page. Please see the E-Learning Unit's guide to submitting assignments on QMPlus. On the submission page you will be asked to confirm that the work you are submitting is your own.

It is your responsibility to ensure that what you submit is your final work; you will not be able to re-submit if you have submitted a draft instead.

The submission deadline will always fall at 17:00 UK time on the submission date.

Plagiarism check

The submission portal you will be submitting on will process your submission through Turnitin – a plagiarism detection software.

QMUL defines plagiarism - an academic offence - as presenting someone else's work as your own, irrespective of intention.

Close paraphrasing, copying from the work of another person, including another student, using the ideas of another person without proper acknowledgement, or repeating work you have previously submitted without properly referencing yourself (known as 'self-plagiarism'), also constitute plagiarism.

Submissions suspected of plagiarism will be investigated, and if confirmed the student will be subject to penalties that can include failure of the module, suspension or permanent withdrawal from the university. This is the QMUL procedure for dealing with plagiarism offences.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you understand plagiarism and how to avoid it. The recommendations below can help you in avoiding plagiarism.

- Be sure to record your sources when taking notes, and to cite these if you use ideas or, especially, quotations from the original source.
- Be particularly careful if you are cutting and pasting information between two documents, and ensure that accurate references are not lost in the process.
- Be sensible in referencing ideas – commonly held views that are generally accepted do not always require acknowledgment to particular sources. However, it is best to be safe to avoid plagiarism.
- Be particularly careful with quotations and paraphrasing.
- Be aware that technology is now available at Queen Mary and elsewhere that can automatically detect plagiarism.
- Ensure that all works used are referenced appropriately in the text of your work and fully credited in your bibliography.
- If in doubt, ask for further guidance from your module tutor.

You will be able to check your submission for plagiarism by test submitting a draft of it online and viewing the Turnitin check report it generates, before you submit formally.

Late submission penalties

Late submission will carry a 5% penalty for every day (24-hour period) late up to 7 days after the deadline. Submissions after this date will receive a 0 mark as per the academic regulations.

If you fail as a result of lateness, you will be required to retake the assessment as a resit; our admin team will email you the deadline by which you must submit your resit. Note that your retake mark will be capped at the pass threshold of 50%, and that mark will be reported for confirmation at the next examination board.

Days late	Penalty
1	-5%
2	-10%
3	-15%
4	-20%
5	-25%
6	-30%
7	-35%

How your work will be marked

Each assessment will be marked against specified assessment criteria and will receive a set grade of either: 85%, 75%, 65%, 55%, 45%, 35%. The classification ranges for the programme are: Distinction (70 – 100%), Merit (60 – 69.9%), Pass (50 – 59.9%), and Refer (0 – 49.9%). Appendix 3 details the programme's generic grading scheme and demonstrates how this aligns with the UKPSF to ensure participants meet the requirements of Descriptor D1 (Associate Fellowship). Individual assessments on the modules will have criteria based on that scheme.

All assessment will be moderated (on modules with 10 or more participants) or double marked (on modules with fewer than 10 participants).

In the case of moderating, an independent marker will check the grading across the range of grades (Distinction-Merit-Pass-Refer) of 25% of all submissions for that assessment.

Appealing a mark

You can appeal a mark only on grounds of a clerical error (e.g. incorrect data entry) or a failing in the process or administration of the marking. You cannot appeal against the academic judgement, i.e. the reason for, the mark of the marker.

More on the QMUL student appeal process can be found here.

Complaints or concerns

We would encourage all participants to discuss any concerns with the programme team in the first instance. Please contact your module tutor or the Programme Manager with any concerns and we will be very happy to discuss these with you and try to find a resolution to any issues.

A student who wishes to make a complaint about academic or non-academic matters they experience during their time at Queen Mary may do so under the Queen Mary Student Complaints Policy. The student complaints process is made up of two stages - Formal Complaint and Complaint Review. Please see details of this process on the ARCS website.

Data protection

Queen Mary processes the personal data of staff, students and other individuals with whom it has a relationship, known as data subjects. Privacy notices will explain the purposes for this, among other things, usually at the point of collection.

Queen Mary's central privacy notice can be seen at <https://www.qmul.ac.uk/privacy/>. This advises individuals about their rights and provides contact details of our Data Protection Officer, as well as other important information. Links to the main privacy notices for students, staff, direct applicants and research participants can be found on this webpage.

Receiving feedback on assessment

You can expect feedback on each submitted assessment 15 working days after the submission deadline. Where on occasion a longer marking time is required, you will be notified by the module convenor when to expect your feedback.

The feedback from the marker(s) will be provided in a feedback form that specifies what you did well and what you need to improve against each of the assessment criteria for the assessment.

Applying for extenuating circumstances related to assessment

If you believe that your ability to attend or submit a particular item of assessment has been negatively impacted by circumstances outside of your control, you may wish to submit a claim for extenuating circumstances.

Extenuating circumstances include:

- Bereavement
- Illness of a close relative
- Illness
- Sudden and unexpected work (e.g. a sudden staffing crisis in your department)
- Personal problems outside of health that are unexpected and affect your ability to complete work

Extenuating circumstances do not include:

- computer problems
- presenting at a conference by prior arrangement
- misreading your assessment timetable
- planned holiday
- local transport delays
- failing to arrange observations of practice
- work pressure is not considered to be an extenuating circumstance for late submission of assignments unless it is unforeseen e.g. cover-teaching, acting-up duties.

Please see QMUL's Extenuating Circumstances Guide for more information on the policy.

If you believe that you have a case for consideration you will need to submit a claim using the Extenuating Circumstances Task in MySIS. You can find guidance on submitting a claim in the section How do I make an Extenuating Circumstances claim? on the Advice and Counselling website. This should be submitted no later than three working days before the appropriate Examination Board.

Extenuating circumstances requests are considered at a sub-committee before the Subject Examination Board, normally comprising the Programme Manager, a module convener, the Programme Administrator and chaired by a senior colleague. All cases of extenuating circumstances are kept confidential until they are considered by this subcommittee. All proceedings of the subcommittee are strictly confidential and will not normally be discussed at the full Examination Board meeting.

If a late submission has the extenuating circumstances accepted, any late submission penalty will be waived. If it has been submitted and marked, it can go to the upcoming Examination Board. If it has not been marked or submitted, you will receive the chance to retake the assignment without the usual cap at the 'pass' mark.

If the extenuating circumstances are rejected and this is the first attempt at the assignment, it will be failed, and you will be given a resit opportunity (which will be capped at the 50% pass threshold mark).

It is your own responsibility to submit any claims for extenuating circumstances, not the responsibility of your tutor. Please ensure that you complete the submission process in accordance with the above guidelines and deadlines. It is not possible to make a retrospective claim for extenuating circumstances after the Examination Board has sat. Therefore, claims submitted after the deadline will not be considered by the Examination Board.

Please refer to the full guidance notes on extenuating circumstances at QMUL.

How your learning will be supported on our modules and programmes

If you have specific questions and concerns about your learning on the module, please let your seminar tutor know the nature of the problem in the first instance. Your concern may be passed on to the module convenor or the Programme Manager.

Each module has its own QMPlus area where you can find all the readings and resources for the module alongside an overview of the module, details about the assessments and the submission point for assessments. You will also need to access your weekly preparation for specific sessions and your feedback through QMPlus. Each QMPlus area also has a module forum where you can post publicly visible questions about the module content. You will also have the chance to ask your tutor questions at the end of any given module session.

You will find annotated exemplars for each module assessment as well as guidance on how to prepare your assessment on the relevant module QMPlus area. If you need to retake an assessment, you can request a one-to-one meeting with your module tutor or the module convenor to help you to apply the feedback you received on your original submission so that you can prepare your resit submission effectively.

Processes and Procedures

Attendance

You are expected to attend, engage with and prepare as instructed for all scheduled topics on the modules you take.

While we encourage you to attend all webinars and seminars, you won't be penalised for not attending sessions if you're unable to. If you are unable to attend the live session, then you will need to watch the recording and complete asynchronous activities.

Failure to engage in at least 80% of a module's teaching and learning activities (synchronous and asynchronous) may result in your de-registration from the programme. (See Queen Mary Academic Regulations).

If you leave Queen Mary during the programme and have completed at least half of it, you will be able to continue to complete your programme with us. You may choose instead to use the credits already gained towards a similar qualification at your new institution.

De-registration

If you consistently do not meet module requirements for attendance, or for submission of coursework, you may be deregistered from the programme. If you believe that you may be unable to meet such requirements for one or more modules, please contact the Programme Manager in the first instance to discuss your options.

You will be given written warnings (by email) before deregistration occurs, and you will have the right to represent your case.

Interruption of Studies

If you are not able to complete the programme in the projected timeframe (e.g. you're unwell and going to be signed off work for weeks or months, you're about to go on maternity leave, you've been awarded a research grant for months of study overseas during term-time, or your personal circumstances require you to adapt your workload) you should request an interruption to your study as soon as possible. This will enable you to interrupt your current academic year of study and to resume your studies the next academic year.

You also have the right to withdraw from the programme completely, should you wish.

The deadlines for withdrawing or interrupting are available on the ARCS website. You should contact the Programme Manager in the first instance for advice and support with your interruption.

Appeals

If you wish to appeal on any grounds, administrative or academic related, follow the process described in the university Academic Regulations for student appeals.

Programme Awards

All of your grades will need to be approved by the examination board of the programmes before they appear in your Student Record (on MySIS).

Programme examination boards take place every June and October (these times are set by QMUL).

Grades for each module are approved at the following examination board. Awards of both your academic programme (CILT) and your Associate Fellowship are also confirmed at the examination board after you have successfully completed your programme.

After the confirmation of award, you will be sent your academic certificate to the address you provided in your application to the programme. If you have changed address since you must ensure to update it in your Student Record on MySIS.

Your Associate Fellowship certificate will be made available as a PDF for download after the board, when you will be contacted by Advance HE and asked to create a personal account on their website, through which to access the certificate.

For any queries regarding the confirmation of awards, Transcripts or Certificates, please contact the Examinations and Awards Office, QMUL, Queens' Building, Room CB01, Mile End Road, London E1 4NS, stuverification@qmul.ac.uk.

After your programme: remaining in good standing and further development

Achieving Associate Fellowship of Advance HE and your programme award will of course, not mark the end of your development in teaching and learning in HE! As we hope the programmes have made clear, continuous professional development is the key underpinning of a career in teaching and/or supporting learning. The Queen Mary Academy offers educational support aligned to the UKPSF to academics throughout their careers. We hope that you will continue to find the workshops and training we run useful for continuing your development in teaching and learning.

The Queen Mary Academy also collaborates with colleagues through project and consultancy work. If you are interested in finding out more about how we can support you then please get in touch at qmacademy@qmul.ac.uk.

Once you have completed CILT you are welcome to continue onto PGCAP at any time if you meet the entry requirements – your CILT credits are valid for use towards PGCAP for 5 years.

We operate a CILT / PGCAP Alumni Network and you will be added to this on completion of your programme so that we can keep you up to date with any relevant news and developments.

Generic assessment criteria and grade descriptors (grading scheme) for the QM Academy Taught Programmes - CILT

Disclaimer: These are subject to review and can be modified before the start of scheduled September and / or January starts of programmes. Submitted assignments are awarded set marks of 85%, 75%, 65%, 55%, 45% or 35% (except in case of late work where penalties are applied). The overall pass mark for the programme and to successfully meet the requirements for Associate Fellowship is 50%.
