

Travel Instructions

“Workshop in Structural VAR models”

Getting to London

The closest airports to the workshop venue are the London City Airport and the Stansted Airport. From the London City Airport, the best way to get to the venue is to take an Uber (20 minutes, around £20), or the DLR train (30 mins), changing in Poplar, getting off at Bow Road, and then either taking a bus or walking (15 mins walk). From the Stansted Airport, you can take the A8 National Express bus in the Stansted Airport Coach Station. The bus has Liverpool Street as final destination, but you can get off at Mile End Station (50 minutes journey). If you take the Stansted Express train to Liverpool Street station (45/55 mins), you will then need to take the tube to Stepney Green/Mile End (see below).

Workshop Venue

The workshop will be held at the Graduate Centre in the Mile End Campus of Queen Mary University, London, E1 4NS. The room is GC601.

Nearby Underground \(Tube\) stations are Stepney Green (District and Hammersmith & City lines) and Mile End (Central, District, and Hammersmith & City lines).

From Mile End Station, walk west on Mile End Road and turn right onto Bancroft Road [\[Map\]](#) You will be walking past the campus, but it is easier if you walk until the junction between Mile End Road and Bancroft Road, rather than walk through the campus.

Once you are in Bancroft Road, you will find a very large grey gate on your right. Go through the gate, you will have the Graduate Centre on your right. The building has a coffee shop on the ground floor.

Once you are in the building, make your way to the fifth floor, where registration and lunch/coffee breaks will take place. The workshop takes place on the sixth floor, room GC601.
